Twe banquet given at Singapore on the 10th inst. to the Hon. C. C. SMITH was a satisfactory proof of the cordial approval by the residents there of his administration of the Government of the Straits Settlements for the long term of twenty months. Hongkong residents have no doubt watched with interest Mr. Smitt's career in Singapore. That gentleman commenced his official life as a cadet in the Civil Service in this Colony, and rose gradually until he filled the post of Registrar-General and Acting Colonial Secretary. He was promoted to be Colonial Secretary of the Straits Settlements shortly after on the 14th instant. the assumption of the Government of Hongkong by Sir John Pope Hennessy, who very soon fell foul of the hard working Registrar-General and their differences became irreconcileable. When Mr. SMITH left the Colony for Singapore an address was presented to him signed by most of the community expressing their high appreciation of his corvices and congratulating him on his promotion. Mr. Smrin, after filling the post of Acting he left. Governor of the Straits Settlements during Sir Frenerick Welp's prolonged absence, has been prosmoted again, this time to the post of Colonial Secretary and Lieut.-Gor-Ternor of Caylon. We sincerely congratulate him on his advancement, and hope that he will be as popular in Ceylon as he was in

Hongkong and Singapore. In the course of his remarks when propose 29th, and 30th October last, neatly made up in ing the teast of "The prosperity of the Straits Settlements," Mr. SMITH dwelt upon the importance of keeping the settlements en évidenot. He said there was a great deal to be done in the wav of getting the Settlements to assert themselves and assist themselves, and not look to the Government to do every thing for them. As instances of how little was known of the Colony, Mr. SMITH wont on to say: -" A gentleman occupying at one time the high position of Chairman of the London School Board has said once that he Admiral Lespés is at present in Shanghai, havsupposed Singapore was somewhere near the sea. He advised the publication of facts Buoy. His visit will be very short, and he leaves concerning Singapore, and that the Colony in his flagship for Hongkong, where he will hand over charge to his successor.. From Hongkong should keep itself prominently before the world. The whole of the information h found in a book which recently was published purporting to give the latest reliable information concerning all questions of the globe was that Malacca was an independent state and that it had a population of 300,000. He advised the Colony to take those means for keeping itself before the world which it had neglected to take in the past. He was aware that an effort had been made by those constituting the Chamber of Commerce to proper stowage of cargo on board some of the galvanise it into action, but there were very coasting steamers. An accident has now occurfew to help them, he was afraid, to accomup their efforts. But unless some joint ac. this morning from Tientsin. At the same time, public interest at home in distant dependencies is very apt to languish, and we therefore haif with satisfaction the forthcoming Indian and Colonial Erhibition, which will be the mean of bringing them into notice in a more prominent manner than has ever been the cas before. Mr. Pitman, who was concerned. in the cast with the plaintiff, had left by mail steamer for Shanghal to assist the plaintiff in the business which was now detaining him, and preventing him from coming to this colony to proceed with this case. On the 14th instant he received a letter front Mr. Pitman informing him that it was impossible the business in hand could be settled in time to enable the plaintiff to be in attendance at the hearing of this case. Mr. Francis proceeded to recapitulate various of the measures which had been adopted since proceedings were first taken in this suit-how, in consequence of the postponement of the suit, the defendant had been allowed by the plaintiff to take some 18 Chinese Government Bonds, part of the property attached, and to use them his maintenance, to meet pressing claims, and to meet the expenses of defending himself against this suit. The delay in bringing on the suit was caused in the first instance by the defendant not filing an answer to the plaintiff's petition for a considerable time. His Lordship said this affidavit had been already made use of in Chambers in support of an application for adjournment, having been filed by the plaintiff's solicitor. It was considered a very hard thing to Mr. Jurgens that this attachment should be continued, and his Lordship had expressed the view that if any further adjournment was applied for after the date then fixed, the writ of foreign attachment should be withdrawn, whereupon Mr. Wilson said he would bring on the case at once, and asked to have it adjourned from that day (last Thursday) until

Mr. Franciscaidhe must take the responsibility upon himself of applying a further adjournment, as it was impossible that the plaintiff's case could be proceeded with under the existing circumstances. His Lordship said the application of last Thursday had been made and disposed of in Chambers

Mr. Francis said the applications he had read the defendant himself had been the original cause of the delay in bringing the suit forward. His Lordship -I do not think the defendant has caused any delay in the suit beyond what he has been obliged to. The defendant, it was true, was in default in filing his answer on the 19th September, but there was reason for that. as he had absolutely no means for defending himself. CHALLENGE CUP. The ocean rade for the Douglay Challenge Cup was sailed on Friday, the 20th inst. The three competing yachts left here on Thursday morning and rendezvoused in Castle Peak Bay, theowners and friends going up late on Thursday night by steam launch. There was a fresh breeze blowing from the northward when the hands turned out in the early morning, and no time was lost in getting mainsails up. Seeing the strong squalls coming down, the skippers thought it prudent to content themselves with jib-headed topsails, andracing flags having been run up, head sails were set and the three boats got together for the start. All being fairly in line the signal was given to go at about 6.80 and jib-topsails were set by all for the reach to the White Rock, but as the yachts opened out the river the wind was found to be fresher, and although they hung on to them for a bit the spar-breakers had to be taken in and plain sail was all that could be well carried. Naomi soon took first place, Ariel close up, and Kathleen hunting her smartly, but Naomi's greater power and length began to tell in the breeze and she launched away fast to the front. All set spinnakers for the run down wind to the Macao mark, Ariel sailing very well but

During the last year the reptile collection, which is a fairly extensive one for a place like Hongkong, has been put into order, thanks chickly to Dr. Anderson, the well-known Director of the Indian Museum at Calpaintings done by a Chinese artist to Priest from 82 objects in the Museum, they being considered a great attraction by the Chinese visitors. A small live crononeur Bangkok has been given to the Museum by Captain Ipland. Four specimens of the Chinese albatrons have been added to the collection, as well as a large nython cought at Stanley. The visitors during the past twelve months have numbered 114,649, of whom 103,987 were Chinese. These figures are considered by the Committee satisactory, showing as they do that though the Massum has been open for over ten years, the interest in it amongst those who most benefit by exhibitions of this sort, is still unabated. It is hoped that before very long the Committee will have sufficient funds in hand to allow thom to purchase a few of the standard works on Natural History, &c., so that the curator may be able to more correctly classify the objects under his care. Want of room prevents any very large addition to the Museum, but were proper books of reference provided a good deal might be done to increase the value of the collection. The following is a list of contellutors during the last twelve months :- Major Knollys, R.A., Mosers. T. Dancan, W. K. Hughes, B. F. Smith, J. M. Guedes, A. McTwine, C. be named either the Arbula or Ambula, which left Burrard's Inlet, B.C. about fifteen days previous to the Mendota, with a full cargo of timber for Shanghai, was not sighted on the passage. She is supposed to be a faster sailer than the Mendota, and in the mate's opinion the Ambula must be either lost or dismasted. The Courier says: - The Mendotais another specimen of the way vessels are overladen now-a-days. Her deck is piled up with planks above the bulwarks. and it would be a difficult task to stand on the planks during calm weather, for they are very irregularly placed one on the other, and the least lurch of the vessel might upset a man in the water. What would it be in rough weather? The mate of the Mendota himself acknowledged that a strong wind or a typhoon would wash the planks away and perhaps the houses with them. We might bring to our readers' recollection the Earl of Elgin case. Her decks were piled up with timber in the same way as the Mendota; and was caught in a typhoon south of the Saddles and came into port with her seams open and a complete wreck; totally waterlogged, the cause of her seams opening being the pressure of the
